

BCA Text Coded in a TEI LITE XML Sample

```
<?xml version="1.0" encoding="UTF-8"?>
<!-- edited with XML Spy v4.3 U (http://www.xmlspy.com) by Martin Kalfatovic
(Smithsonian Institution) -->
<!DOCTYPE TEI.2 SYSTEM "C:\moz\AMNH_Ultra_Lite.dtd">
<style>
genus {font-style: italic}
</style>
<TEI.2>
  <text>
    <body>

        <head>32. EPIDENDRUM</head>

          Epidendrum, Linn. Gen. Plant. N. 1016, pro parte;
          Benth. Et Hook. Gen. Plant. iii. p.528.

          An exclusively American genus, ranging from the south eastern States of North America, where there are very few species, through the West Indies and Mexico to Bolivia and South Brazil. One species in endemic in the Galapagos, and the only Orchid hitherto found in these islands. Upwards of 400 species have been described.

          <head>1. Epidendru aciculare, Batem in Bot. Reg. 1841,
          Misc. p. 46 ; Lindl. Fol. Orch. N. 44 ; Walp. Ann. Vi.
          P.333 ; Griseb. Fl. Brit. W. Ind. P. 613.</head>

          Epidendrum linearifolium
          , Hook. Bot. Mag. T. 4572.
          Epidendrum esculentum, Hort. Kew. Ex Lindl.

          Epidendrum bractescens, Lindl. Bot. Reg. 1840, Misc.
          p. 58 et Fol. N. 43.

          South Mexico, Cordillera of Oaxaca, at 3000 feet
          (Galeotti, 5103 ; Hartweg) ; Mirador (Sartorius). -- Also recorded from the Bahamas. Hb. Kew.

          <head>2. Epidendrum adenocarpum, Llav. Et Lex. Nov. Veg.
          Descr. Ii., Orch. Opusc. P. 24 ; Lindl. Fol. Orch. N. 62
          ; Walp. Rep. Vi. P. 339.</head>
          Epidendrum crispatum, Knowles et Westc. Flor. Cab.
          Ii. P.79?
          Epidendrum papillosum, Batem . Bot. Reg. 1838, Misc.
          p. 7 ; Bot Mag. T. 3631

          South Mexico, on the Irapean mountains (La Llave), Aguas Calientes (Hartweg) ; Guatemala (Skinner). Hb.
          Kew.

      </body>
    </text>

</TEI.2>
```

```
</body>
</text>
</TEI.2>
```