

ARCHÆOLOGY.

58, 59. Vol. I. (text and plates): by A. P. Maudslay.

The Volume of text contains the Preface and Introduction to the entire subject, and a general account of the ruins at Copan. The latter are described under five headings: (1) Principal Notices and descriptions of the Ruins; (2) Personal narrative; (3) General description of site; (4) Detailed description of principal structures; (5) Description of Stelæ and Altars. In addition to the 119 folio plates, there are numerous illustrations in the text. The text of Vols. I.–IV. is arranged for binding in one Volume; the plates illustrating the subject form four separate volumes, when bound.

58, 60. Vol. II. (text and plates): by A. P. Maudslay.

The Ruins described in Vol. II. are those of Quirigua, Ixkun, Yaxché, Rabinal, Chacujal, Utatlan and Iximché, Mixco (foundation-mounds), and Menché. These places are all shown on the 98 folio plates, the first of which is a map of Guatemala and the adjoining countries, showing the position of the ruins; and there are also various illustrations in the text.

58, 61. Vol. III. (text and plates): by A. P. Maudslay.

The Ruins described in Vol. III. are those of Chichén Itzá and Tikal. The 82 folio plates, the first of which is a map of Yucatan and the country to the south of it, show these places, and there are also three illustrations in the text.

58, 62. Vol. IV. (text and plates): by A. P. Maudslay.

The Ruins of Palenque are described in Vol. IV. under eight headings: (1) Personal Narrative; (2) Principal Notices and Descriptions of the Ruins; (3) General description of the site; (4) Detailed description of the principal structures; (5) Pottery; (6) Initial Series or date; (7) The two-headed dragon; (8) The Water-plant. These subjects are shown on the 93 folio plates.

63. Appendix (text only): The Archaic Maya Inscriptions: by J. T. Goodman.

Pages 1–149 of this Volume are occupied with Mr. Goodman's account of these inscriptions; and pp. 151–264 by the Annual, Chronological, and Perpetual Calendars (Tables), and the Working Chart. The 'Appendix' forms the entire Part VIII. of the Archæology, and is unaccompanied by Plates.
