Singer Machine No. 7-34

For

Stitching Awnings, Mail Bags, Tents, Horse Collars, Etc.

Machine No. 7-34

Singer Machine No. 7-34 has one needle and one shuttle and makes the lock stitch. It is designed for stitching awnings, mail bags, rugs, robes, canvas covers, horse collars, traces, life preservers, sails, tents and other articles in canvas or leather.

The machine can be furnished for operation by mechanical power or foot power as desired and is capable of being driven up to the speed of 650 stitches per minute. As there is a clear working space of 15\%\% inches at the right of the needle, large work can be easily handled.

The shuttle in this machine has a long beak and is of the oscillating cylinder type, carrying a large bobbin of great thread capacity.
The machine is fitted with alternating pressers which have a lift of \( \frac{3}{8} \) inch and consist of a vibrating and a lifting presser working in combination. In operation, the pressers alternately press down on the material, the vibrating presser working in unison with the feed, so that there is no slipping of the two or more plies of material which may be sewn and the feeding is uniform throughout. The machine can be readily adjusted to make stitches varying from \( \frac{3}{32} \) to \( \frac{3}{16} \) inch in length. To assist the operator in guiding the work an adjustable guide is provided.

To ensure a tight stitch when heavy work is being sewn the needle thread can be guided through a lubricant contained in the lubricating cup located near the top of the machine at the back.

The machine is furnished with balance wheel No. 11356 for Singer Underdriver for power, or No. 11358 for Foot Power Stand and the order should state whether the machine is to be driven by mechanical power or foot power.

The machine is provided with powerful stitching mechanism and will satisfactorily stitch all descriptions of heavy fabrics.
