

ARCHÆOLOGY

58-59. Vol. I. (text and plates). By A. P. Maudslay.

The Volume of text contains the Preface and Introduction to the entire subject, and a general account of the ruins at Copan. The latter are described under five headings: (1) Principal Notices and descriptions of the Ruins; (2) Personal narrative; (3) General description of site; (4) Detailed description of principal structures; (5) Description of Stelæ and Altars. In addition to the 119 folio plates, there are numerous illustrations in the text. The text of vols. I.-IV. is arranged for binding in one volume; the plates illustrating the subject form four separate volumes, when bound.

58-60. Vol. II. (text and plates). By A. P. Maudslay.

The Ruins described in vol. II. are those of Quirigua, Ixkun, Yaxché, Rabinal, Chacujal, Utatlan and Iximché, Mixco (foundation-mounds), and Menché. These places are all shown on the 98 folio plates, the first of which is a map of Guatemala and the adjoining countries, showing the position of the ruins; and there are also various illustrations in the text.

58-61. Vol. III. (text and plates). By A. P. Maudslay.

The Ruins described in vol. III. are those of Chichén Itzá and Tikal. The 82 folio plates, the first of which is a map of Yucatan and the country to the south of it, show these places, and there are also three illustrations in the text.

58-62. Vol. IV. (text and plates). By A. P. Maudslay.

The Ruins of Palenque are described in vol. IV. under eight headings: (1) Personal Narrative; (2) Principal Notices and Descriptions of the Ruins; (3) General Description of the Site; (4) Detailed Description of the principal Structures; (5) Pottery; (6) Initial Series or Date; (7) The two-headed Dragon; (8) The Water-plant. These subjects are shown on the 93 folio plates.

63. Appendix (text only): The Archaic Maya Inscriptions. By J. T. Goodman.

Pages 1-149 of this volume are occupied with Mr. Goodman's account of these inscriptions; and pp. 151-264 by the Annual, Chronological, and Perpetual Calendars (Tables), and the Working Chart. The 'Appendix' forms the entire part VIII. of the Archæology, and is unaccompanied by plates.
