

5. Ancæus clavipes.

Holotrochus clavipes, Sharp, Trans. Ent. Soc. Lond. 1876, p. 391¹.

Hab. GUATEMALA, El Tumbador (Champion).—SOUTH AMERICA, Amazons valley¹.

6. Ancæus rufescens.

Lispinus rufescens, Lec. New Spec. N. Am. Col. p. 59 (1863)¹.

Lispinus exiguus, Fauv. (nec Er.) Bull. Soc. Linn. Normand. ix. p. 59²; Notices ent. ii. p. 55³; ibid. vii. p. 16⁴.

Holotrochus fauveli, Sharp, Tr. Ent. Soc. Lond. 1876, p. 392⁵.

Ancæus rufescens, Lec. Tr. Am. Ent. Soc. vi. p. 249⁶.

Hab. NORTH AMERICA, Southern States^{1 4 6}.—MEXICO, Teapa (Pilate^{2 3 4}, in coll. Chevrolat); GUATEMALA, San Joaquin, El Reposo, Pantaleon, Zapote (Champion).—SOUTH AMERICA, Amazons valley⁵.

If L. rufescens, Lec., be really L. exiguus, Fauv., there can be no doubt that it is an Ancæus, as recently stated by Leconte: Fauvel, however⁴, denies this.

7. Ancæus politus.

Nitidus, rufo-testaceus, elytris versus apicem fuscis; prothorace basin versus fortiter sinuato, ad angulos posteriores profunde foveolato; oculis prominulis.

Long. $2\frac{1}{2}$ millim.

Hab. GUATEMALA, El Tumbador (Champion).

Surface very shining. Mandibles short. Antennæ rather slender at the base; ninth joint much broader than the eighth, strongly transverse. Head rather short, feebly bi-impressed in front. Thorax broader than long, finely canaliculate along the middle, very shining. Elytra much longer than the thorax. Five examples.

LISPINUS.

Lispinus, Erichson, Gen. et Spec. Staph. p. 828 (1840); Fauvel, Bull. Soc. Linn. Normand. ix. p. 44 (1865); Notices ent. ii. p. 40.

This genus is widely distributed in the warmer regions of the world, and comprises about sixty described species.

1. Lispinus laticollis.

Lispinus laticollis, Er. Gen. et Spec. Staph. p. 828¹; Chevr. & Fauv. Ann. Soc. Ent. Fr. 1863, p. 442²; Fauv. Bull. Soc. Linn. Normand. ix. p. 49³; Notices ent. ii. p. 45⁴.

Hab. PANAMA, Volcan de Chiriqui 2500 to 4000 feet (Champion).—ANTILLES, Cuba^{1 2 3 4}.

2. Lispinus quadripunctulus.

Lispinus quadripunctulus, Fauv. Bull. Soc. Linn. Normand. ix. p. 49¹; Notices ent. ii. p. 45².
